On 29 May 1999, Cory and Brenda Suzanne Clifford married in St. Bernard's Catholic Church, Watertown, Jefferson County, Wisconsin. The following newspaper article, provided by Brenda, was written for the couple and details the marriage longevity of the Schneider and Clifford families:

Here's one for the record

When you talk about long term marriages, this is truly a success story...one to be proud of. Between Lyle and Leanne's parents, they have been married 110 years. Between Jim and Pat's parents, they have been married 104 years. Jim and Pat will be married 35 years this August. Lyle and Leanne will be married 34 years this July. This adds up to 283 years between them all. That is quite a record!!!

Following is the marriage history of the two families:

Pat's parents	Raymond and Sophie Graham
	Oct. 26, 1935-Sept 15, 1989		54 years
Jim's parents	April 10, 1938-July 28, 1987	50 years
Jim & Pat	August 29, 1964	Will be	35 years
Lyle's parents	Harvey and Erna Schneider
	September 24, 1938	Will be	61 years
Leanne's parents	Harold and Mildred Timm
	December 6, 1941-May 28, 1990		49 years
Lyle & Leanne	July 31, 1964	Will be	34 years

The longevity of these marriages didn't automatically happen. It took a lot of work. Sometimes it was hard, and sometimes it was easy. One of the main reasons these marriages were so successful is because they all communicated with each other. Communication between each other is the key to any successful marriage.

So, Cory and Brenda, Kim and Jeff, Kari and Cory, Brett and Jodi (their big day is coming), Maribeth and Rich, Kevin and Linette you have quite a tradition to follow. However, there is no question you can do it!!!

Brenda, a daughter of James and Patricia Graham Clifford, was born 4 October 1972 in Watertown, Jefferson County, Wisconsin. She graduated from Watertown Senior High School in 1991 and was awarded a bachelor of science degree in education from Carroll College in 1995.

Sarah died under tragic circumstances that occurred on 5 February 1989 when she and three other Mishicot High School students were killed in a weekend tragedy on Harpt's Lake in northern Manitowoc County.

Lethal carbon monoxide fumes were blamed for the deaths of the teenagers who were staying overnight in a small fishing shack – a wooden shanty – and one of more than fifty such shelters on the frozen seventy-acre lake. They were overcome by fumes from two portable propane heaters and a propane hot plate they left running in the shack to keep warm during the cold winter's night.

They had been participating in an ice-fishing derby sponsored by the Larrabee Sportsmen's Club. Over 300 people took part in the derby; many stayed in their shanties overnight and others stayed in cars as the temperatures dipped below zero.

Victims included Scott Novak, 17, son of Kenneth and Mary Novak, 2824 Two Creeks Road, Mishicot; Cory A. Thronson, 16, son of Sherman Thronson, 1004 Tapawingo Road, Mishicot; Shawn Shoulak, 16, son of Larry and Kathy Shoulak, 5125 Hwy. 147 West, Maribel; and Sarah J. Koller, 16, daughter of David and Sandy Koller, Mishicot. Sarah and Cory were cousins.

The victims were found about 6:30 a.m. Sunday, approximately three hours after they were last seen awake.

Sarah's father, David Koller was in a shanty next door to the one the victims were using and tried mouth-to-mouth resuscitation after Sarah's brother, Scott, and another friend found the teenagers.

accident scene said that the vision of both drivers may have been blocked by a piece of construction equipment in the area. The jaws of life device was used to extricate Steven from the vehicle, and he was transported by helicopter to Theda Clark Regional Medical Center in Neenah where he died. He was seventeen. Coincidentally, his death occurred exactly ten years from the death of his cousin, Sarah Jane Koller, who died on 5 February 1989.

Soon after her birth, her parents were dismayed when doctors discovered that Angie had been born with a defective heart that only surgery could correct.

In February of 1973, shortly before surgery was scheduled, Angie's plight was featured in a Menasha News-Record story in hopes that people in her community would donate blood to the Red Cross in her name to insure that she would have an ample supply for surgery. The response was overwhelming.

Angie, described as, "blond and delicate," endured the surgery to repair a small section of her heart where the left and right ventricles had grown together. After that successful surgical procedure, she returned home and her parents were hopeful that she would make a complete recovery. But doctors presently discovered another anomaly with Angie's heart. This time it was a defective valve and Angie was scheduled to undergo surgery again in University Hospital, Madison. Though there was apparently no trouble with the surgery itself, a blood clot formed and rapidly moved to Angie's brain.

The four-year-old child died on 23 July 1973 in Madison, Dane County, Wisconsin.
